

Libby Wragg

Schools' Choice HR Business Partner

Libby has worked in HR for more years than she's prepared to admit!

Libby's real passion lies with schools. She says helping school leaders to manage their people effectively and to address issues promptly can be challenging but is ultimately very rewarding.

She says "no one enjoys giving a difficult message, but without honesty, we are not being fair to that colleague." Remembering that the children get "one go at every day" is vital in her view.

Libby has spoken at national conferences and written for ISBL's 'The Voice'.

Three Things about Libby!

Libby loves her family, Scottish Country Dancing and her rescue Staffie, Allie; not necessarily in that order!

Libby wishes we could find time every day to say truthfully "I did my very best for that customer."

Libby's favourite teacher was Mr Seadon at Framlingham Earl High School. "He was my first form tutor and French teacher. He was kind, funny and an excellent shot with a board rubber! I was delighted when he became the Headteacher at this lovely school."

"I enjoying fixing things, helping heads to speak honestly about concerns, be they about performance, absence or conduct. I genuinely believe nothing will change unless you make it change."
