

Sian Durrant

Project Manager

Sian started her career in HR as an apprentice at a local consultancy where she gained her CIPD Level 5 and moved onto an HR Assistant role.

She joined Schools' Choice as a Senior HR Consultant, and when the opportunity arose to train as our Data Protection Service Lead she seized it, throwing herself into the training and creating a diverse and thorough service to keep schools compliant.

Since then, Sian has become our Project Manager, using her superior organisational skills to drive forward complex client requirements and an array of company initiatives and programmes.

Three Things about Sian!

Sian loves ... her rabbit Lola and her rescue dogs Alice and Obi. She also enjoys ballet and has never been beaten by an escape room yet!

Sian wishes "it could be Christmas everyday!" (And we know it would run perfectly smoothly if she were in charge!)

Sian's favourite teacher was Mrs Hayes at Hintlesham Primary School. She says, "she taught me to work hard and keep going no matter what the challenge."

"Working for Schools' Choice is rewarding as I feel we can make a real impact on children's education."
